

Photography/Videography in the Galleries

We welcome visitors to photograph in Museum galleries and the Ballantine House under the following conditions:

- Photography is allowed in permanent collection galleries and the Ballantine House only. It may be restricted in temporary exhibition spaces, during events, or when a “No Photography” symbol appears near any artwork. If a visitor has questions about a particular space, they can ask a visitor services associate.
- Filming is not permitted anywhere in the museum space. If a visitor wishes to film, signed permission must be requested and received from visitor services. For further information, ask a visitor services associate.
- Visitors may use handheld cameras or cell phones and existing lighting only. Flash photography is not permitted. Additional equipment such as camera bags, tripods, extension cords, and extending devices such as “selfie sticks” are prohibited.
- Visitors taking photos may not interfere with Museum operations, disrupt other visitors, or limit access to entrances/exits and other high traffic areas. A distance of at least three feet from all artworks must be maintained. Stepping onto platforms with artwork is not permitted.
- Only visitors or staff members that have consented to participate may be photographed.
- Photography is allowed for noncommercial, educational, and personal use only, or for “fair use” as authorized in the United States copyright laws. Selling or otherwise commercially exploiting photos taken at the Museum is prohibited without the consent of The Newark Museum of Art.

*The Museum makes no warranties or representations and assumes no responsibility for any claims, royalties or fees claimed by an artist, on his or her behalf, or by any other person claiming a copyright or other interest in the work being reproduced.

Please contact the NMOA Rights and Reproductions Registrar (registrar@newarkmuseumart.org) to obtain and/or reproduce high quality photographs of collection objects for lecture, study, and publication or for copyright information related to works in the museum’s collection.

For commercial film and photo shoots please contact the NMOA Chief of Staff at p: 973-596-6648 m: 201-207-4202 Or mdowd@newarkmuseumart.org

For or other media inquiries please contact the PR office at: press@newarkmuseumart.org

Non-compliance with NMOA policy will result in being escorted off the premises.
